Boxshop, East Kilbride and Boxes & Packaging- Dumbarton are a producer of high-quality packaging materials. Our commitment is to minimise the impact of our products and processes upon the environment, whilst striving to continually meet customer expectations for innovative packaging solutions.

The operating sites in Central Scotland aim to respect and preserve the environment and promote responsible development, whenever practicable, by implementing and maintaining an Environmental Management System with consideration for the standard requirements of ISO 14001.

The main objectives of the Environmental Management System are to achieve continual improvements in environmental performance, prevent pollution and achieve the Company's environmental objectives & targets. Targets will reflect and contribute towards appropriate Logson group initiatives, ensuring the companies input to Corporate and Social responsibility programs as required, and where appropriate customer interests related to elements of the Ethical Trading Initiative Base code.

To ensure the success of the Environmental Management System, the operating sites Management teams will ensure that:

- Responsibilities for the Environmental Management System are clearly defined, and sufficient resources are allocated to ensure the successful implementation and maintenance of the system.
- Operations are conducted in compliance with all applicable UK and where appropriate EU legislation.
- Operating procedures are introduced to minimise the risk of pollution of air, water, and land.
- Working practices are evolved to maximise the productivity of raw materials and natural resource utilisation.
- The risks of environmental impacting incidents are minimised, and effective emergency procedures are maintained.
- The environmental awareness of all employees is developed and maintained on an ongoing basis, through training and awareness programmes.
- The Environmental Policy, objectives and targets are communicated to all employees, and where appropriate or on request, to customers and other external parties.
